

Using the Library's Video Collection as a Language Learning and Teaching Resource

A screenshot of the Kanopy video player interface. The main video player shows a scene from the film 'The Last Metro' with a man and a woman. Below the player, the title 'The Last Metro' and 'from Criterion Collection/Janus Films' are visible. To the right, a 'WATCH RELATED VIDEOS' section lists four other films: 'The Golden Coach', 'Lacombe, Lucien', 'Kanal', and 'The Tin Drum'. The Kanopy logo and University of Virginia Library logo are at the top of the interface.

Why Film?

Mark Kaiser of the Berkeley Language Center in an article called New Approaches to Exploiting Film in the Foreign Language Classroom in L2 Journal:

Why film? “Films serve as a model of language use, in particular as a vehicle to improve listening comprehension, enrich vocabulary, and develop translingual competence; second, as a model and reflection of ... cultural artifacts, values, and behaviors, and therefore a vehicle to develop students’ transcultural competence; and third, as an exploration of how multiple semiotic systems work together to create an artistic, meaning-full text.”

Why Film Clips?

Mark Kaiser of the Berkeley Language Center in an article called New Approaches to Exploiting Film in the Foreign Language Classroom in L2 Journal:

Why film clips? “There are numerous pedagogical benefits to the use of film clips. The quantity of language is more manageable, the clip can be replayed multiple times in class, or the clips can be put on a learning management system, thereby giving students access to clips as homework assignments.”

Kaltura in Collab

- My video homework assignment

The screenshot displays the UVA Collab interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the UVA Collab logo and several dropdown menus: 'My Workspace', 'Leigh', 'ArtsMediaCollections', 'Circulation', and 'More Sites'. Below this, the page title is 'Leigh: Kaltura Media Gallery'. A sidebar on the left contains a 'Template Help' link and a 'Home' button, followed by a list of 'Week' items from Week 1 to Week 15, each with a book icon. The main content area is titled 'Leigh: Kaltura Media Gallery' and has a 'Permissions' button. Below this, there are tabs for 'Site Library', 'Collections', and 'My Media'. Under the 'Collections' tab, there are options to 'Select Media', 'Upload new media', 'Edit Collection Properties', and 'Delete Collection'. The current collection is named 'german'. Below the collection name, there is a section for 'LESSON 2' which contains a video player. The video player shows a woman with blonde hair speaking. Below the video player are buttons for 'Download', 'Embed Code', 'Edit Details', 'Clip Media', and 'Remove'. To the right of the video player, there is a 'Collection Media' section with a search bar and a list of media items. The list shows two items: 'lesson 2' and 'lesson 1', each with a small video thumbnail. At the bottom of the page, there are fields for 'Tags : none' and 'Description : none'.
